DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of Group I, claims 1-29 in the reply filed on June 9, 2006 is acknowledged.

Claims 30-53 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected Invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on June 9, 2006.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by WO 03/089027 A2.

Art Unit: 1723

The applied reference has a common assignee and two common inventors with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Claims 1-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by WO 03/089027 A2 who discloses an apparatus for separating blood into, red blood cells, platelets and plasma, the apparatus comprising: a centrifuge (34) having a motor (16) and a rotor (1) including a first rotor portion defining a ring shaped area (3) receiving a blood separation bag (4) and a second rotor portion defining a central chamber cavity (2) receiving a platelet collection bag (33'), a plasma collection bag (33'') and a red blood cell collection bag (33'''); a squeezing system (page 26) for squeezing the separation bag and pumping centrifugally separated platelets, plasma and red blood cells to their respective collection bags (33', 33'', 33'''), the squeezing system including a pump (80) ; and a controller (68) (see page 31) including a processor having programmed instructions provided by ROM and/or RAM; the controller (68) communicating with the pump (80), the motor (16), a pressure sensor (70), a first optical sensor (52), a second optical sensor (55) and a valving structure (72).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over WO 01/02037 A1 who discloses an apparatus for separating blood into platelets and other blood components, the apparatus comprising: a centrifuge (34) having a motor (16) and a rotor (1) including a first rotor portion defining a ring shaped area (3) receiving a blood separation bag (4) and a second rotor portion defining a central chamber cavity (2) receiving a platelet collection bag (33) and other collection bags (Abstract; page 1, lines 3-5, claim 1); a squeezing system (page 8) for squeezing the separation bag and pumping centrifugally separated platelets and other blood components to their respective collection bags (33); and a control system, the control system having a control program, the control system, communicating with the squeezing system (80), the motor (16) and a plurality of photocells (52), the control system including a database and contains all of the required control criteria for separating blood into platelets and other blood components in the centrifuge (34). Therefore, the control system inherently or at least obviously meets all of the claim limitations in claims 1-29.
